Deadline: April 15th

Have you wanted to have your work published in a book? Not a book the teacher runs off and staples together, but a REAL book available online for sale to anyone in the world. We've done this two years in a row. We're going to do it again this year, and we need your writing and art.

- WHO MAKES THE DECISIONS?
Everyone who has a work to contribute. In other words, YOU!
- Title—decided by you
- Cover design—decided by you
- Amount of profit—decided by you
- Editing of work—done by you at authors' meetings
- Cost to have your work published—FREE
- SUBMIT YOUR WORK TO
housej@gcschools.net or to our GHS PUBLICATION MESSAGE BOARD on GAGGLE.
- Make sure you fill out the Permission to Publish form on the GHS website.

Dear Parent or Guardian,

This semester, Greeneville High School will be collectively publishing a book titled _____(to be chosen by the students) Publishing is the final stage of the writing process, and it is important because it gives authors a purpose for writing: sharing their ideas with an audience. Your permission is required in order to have your child's work included in this book. Please review your child's ORIGINAL work (listed below and attached) before signing this permission slip. Make sure that you are comfortable with your child publishing this work. The book, once published, will be available for anyone in the world to purchase, so private information appearing in your child's work should be altered or deleted to maintain privacy. Discuss these and other changes with your child. The copyright of the individual works remains in the hands of each student. You are merely giving permission to have your child's work published in this edition of _____. Students can publish their own work in the future however they see fit.

Proceeds from the sale of the book are donated to _____(chosen by the students)/ I will purchase a few copies for our school, so you are not required to buy anything. However, I invite you to order a copy of _____ for your child from _____ (website will be provided once publication is ready).

Sincerely,

Mrs. House
